Our Vision

Why this programme matters

ACCESS

Open pathways for talented young people across North East India, including scholarships and subsidised places.

EXCELLENCE

Deliver conservatoire-style teaching in technique, theory, interpretation and performance.

COMMUNITY

Create enduring relationships between North East India and the UK and global music networks.

To nurture young musicians from North East India through a world-class conservatoire model anchored by Bernardi Music Group (UK), combining structured training, expert mentorship, and access to national and global performance opportunities.

Our Mission

This international music workshop is the first step in building long-term music education partnerships for students from North East India. Over time, it aims to create lasting academic links with institutions such as Trinity Laban and the Yehudi Menuhin School, while celebrating the distinctive musical heritage of the people of the Seven Sisters.

What We Aim to Deliver

- Conservatoire-style learning in North East India
- Certifications, pathways and future exchanges
- Real stage experience with international faculty
- A stronger long-term music ecosystem for the region

A Movement for Music

Great music begins with guidance.
Every student's journey begins with belief.

Be a part of building that journey.

The Seven Sisters Conservatoire International Music Workshop is a unique opportunity for young musicians from North East India. Over six immersive days, they will learn from international faculty, grow in confidence and connect with a global music community.

World-Class Learning
Train in a conservatoire-style environment with expert international faculty.

Global Exposure
Build skills, earn certificates and gain pathways to future opportunities.

Stronger Together
Be part of a growing ecosystem that celebrates our heritage and shapes our musical future.

Teachers, You Make the First Difference
You are the first guide, the first encourager, the first believer.

Your recommendation can open doors that transform a student's life.

- Nominate deserving students
- Encourage them to grow beyond boundaries
- Be a catalyst for their future

Schools & Music Teachers

We welcome students who are passionate and ready to learn.

Know a young musician with potential? Nominate them.

Your nomination can shape their tomorrow.

Music Lovers & Well-Wishers

Music grows when communities recognise and encourage talent.

Your support is the spark that can start a lifelong journey.

Let's come together to inspire the next generation.

Great journeys begin with small acts of belief.
Be the reason a young musician discovers their world.
